STARTING UP FOLEY MINE.

The well-known Mine Operator J. C. Foley says it will be Running in 30 Days.

Mr. J. C. Foley, the original owner of the Foley mine at Mine Centre, who recently purchased the Seine River property from the litigants, has organized a strong American company who will immediately proceed to resume operations at the Foley mine, a description of which appeared in our last issue. The new concern will be known as the Mine Centre Gold Company with head offices for the present at Detroit, Mich.

In a private despatch to the Miner, Mr. Foley says:

"We intend to have the old property at Mine Centre (Foley Mine) running full blast inside of 30 days, and we hope it will help to bring about a revival in the mining industry of Ontario."

Mr. Foley is a man of his word; what he says he will do he always does—at least that has been our experience of the man since he ignited the Seine River boom some years ago, and started Rat Portage and Duluth with his big gold bricks. He is backed by adequate capital, furnished by men who have implicit confidence in his ability to do just as he says, so that there is no reason to doubt, that the Foley mine will enter, during the summer, our list of gold producing mines.

CHIPPewa MINING COMPANY.

This office was favored with a call from Fred Pfau, M.E., of Baker City, Ore. Mr. Pfau is engineer for the Chippewa Gold Mining and Milling Company, recently organized to develop on mining properties in Ontario. It was this company that purchased the Woodley mine in the Lake of the Woods, and Mr. Pfau assures us that active development work will immediately begin, and that by July a milling plant of from 60 to 70 tons daily capacity will be installed on this property. This company has made a number of investments throughout the Rainy River district, and hence own over 200 acres. This move on the part of the Chippewa Gold Mining and Milling Company is very significant. From the fact that Mr. Pfau is from a mining section of Oregon that his rich- ness is sufficient to attract the attention of the mining world, the famous

Mr. Enlaw withholds expressing any opinion as to the nature of the property until further development shall have given further data on which to base judgment.

LONG LAKE MINING COMPANY.

The preliminary development work of the Long Lake Mining Company, of Manchester, England, on their claim on Long lake is finished. The shaft has been widened to a good working size, 8x10, but has not been timbered, as that work will be included in the contract to be awarded later. Mr. F. Bolton, who represents the company, is expected here shortly from Manchester, Eng., when arrangements will be made for further development.

A portable engine and boiler arrived on Tuesday from Toronto, for the purpose of running a prospecting well which has been ordered from San Francisco. This mill will have a capacity of six or seven tons a day, and will be utilized for testing the richness of the vein during development in anticipation of a large plant being installed at a later period. The engine will be moved to the property as soon as possible.

LOG CABIN MINING CO.

Mr. Fisk, wife and family arrived here on Sunday morning from Buffalo, N. Y., and embarked on the steamer Keenora for Mine Centre. Mr. Fisk comes to take charge of the properties controlled by the Log Cabin Gold Mining Company, situated about 12 miles from Mine Centre, and it is understood that he will begin development work as soon as he gets camps ready for the accommodation of the miners. The fact of Mr. Fisk bringing his family here is a strong indication that his company which owns copper as well as gold claims, intend to develop some of the Mine Centre locations.

CROWN POINT MILL.

The Crown Point stamp mill is being put in shape for a small run of ore from the Indian Joe claim, mechanics and an amalgamator, having left yesterday for Shovel Lake mill. The result of this test will be made known in a few days.

Mr. E. W. Smith, of Grimsby, Ont., arrived here some days ago to superintend the work that is being undertaken at the Combined mines com-

CHANGING NAMES.

The third annual report of the Geographic Board of Canada has just been received. might have been strained, he achieved undoubted success—first, in the matter of the Venezuelan frontier, and second, at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. In both cases his action was conciliatory and tactful. His demeanor at Washington did much to bring together the two branches of the Anglo-Saxon race. He possessed the confidence of the leading men of both nations, especially of the Marquis of Salisbury.

RELIEF FOR FERNIE SUFFERERS.

The Miner received the following telegram from the Fernie Board of Trade:

Fernie, B. C., May 23.—(To the Rat Portage Miner.) The Fernie Board of Trade would urgently call the attention of all people that a great calamity has overtaken the town, by a mine explosion. 150 men have been killed and much destruction prevails. Kindly collect subscriptions and forward same to the Bank of Commerce Relief Fund, Fernie.

It is to be hoped our citizens will promptly contribute some amount to alleviate the terrible distress of the widows and orphans of the men who were killed in the terrible disaster at Fernie. Any amount can be sent direct to the Bank of Commerce, Fernie, or sent to the Miner and we will forward to the proper authorities.

COMBINED MINES.
Mr. E. W. Smith, of Grimsby, Ont., arrived here some days ago to superintend the work that is being undertaken at the Combined mines company's locations. Mr. Smith is somewhat reticent regarding his company's plans, but indications point to a resumption of operations on the previous scale, at an early date. It is understood also, that the Combined Mines Company is quietly acquiring new claims in the Lake of the Woods district.

THE ELIZABETH MINE.
Drifting is being carried on rapidly on the Anglo-Canadian Gold Estates property. Operations have been confined mainly to the second and third levels, and have resulted in exposing a large reserve of ore, which carries values that are, to say the least of it, satisfactory.
The third level being established below the line of faulting, at a depth of 220 feet, has been commenced to the north and to the south, that to the north having been driven 78 feet, being at the end of this drift 5 feet 9 inches of quartz with both walls round. In drifting to the south the miners broke through some loose ground into a body of quartz, and have run this drift 26 feet, there being a three foot vein in the breast, and the hole is widening rapidly.
With the regard to the erection of a stamp mill, more will probably be learned after the return of Mr. Allan Sullivan from England, but the policy that the managing end of the directorate would like to pursue is, according to a gentleman who knows the facts, to delay the installation until still further ore reserves are in sight.
Of course in a matter like this there is the influence of non-operative shareholders to be reckoned with, and there are sometimes impatient for results.

Mr. Geo. Drewry, returned today from a fishing trip on the lake, bringing with him, among others, a trout weighing slightly over twenty pounds.
The plan of seats for the McLeod entertainment is now open at Hook's.
The thirty-fifth tote, who passed a long weary on their way from England to Teul, N.C., have reached their destination.

MR. HILLIARD'S NARROW ESCAPE.
Mr. Louis Hilliard, proprietor of the Opera House, met with a painful accident last Friday afternoon, which might have resulted fatally or at least more seriously than it did. He was driving out to his farm in company with a commercial traveller, when, in descending a steep hill, the breeching connections of the harness became unfastened, and the buggy piled up on the horse. The frightened animal began to kick and rear, and the vehicle was soon reduced almost to kindling wood and scrap, from the occupants being entangled among the broken pieces. Fortunately Mr. Hilliard and his companion were able to extricate themselves, before the horse tramped upon them. When the doctor examined Mr. Hilliard he found him badly bruised and shaken up, and some hours after the accident he lapsed into unconsciousness, and was almost pulseless. We are glad to be able to state, however, that Mr. Hilliard is now able to sit up.

CAREER OF PAUNCEFOTE.
Brief History of His Youth and Diplomatic Achievements.
Lord Pauncefote was born September 18, 1828, in Munich, the third son of Robert Pauncefote, of Preston Court, Gloucestershire, England. He was educated in Paris, Geneva, and at Marlborough college. He was called to the bar at the Inner Temple in 1852, and appointed attorney-general of Hong Kong in 1855. In 1857 he was knighted by patent and appointed legal assistant under secretary of state for the colonies. In 1862 he received grand cross of the order of St. Michael and St. George. In 1860 he succeeded Lord Sackville as British minister at Washington, and in 1862 received the grand cross of the Bath for his diplomatic services. In 1866 he was raised to the rank of ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to the United States.

Lord Pauncefote was a distinguished and able diplomat, and in his relations with the United States as minister of peace had always acquitted himself with credit.

The dividend for the Calumet, held for the first quarter of 1902 was 87 per share, while the dividend in the first quarter of 1901 was 82 1/2 share. The Victoria Colonist says the management of the mine does claim that the difference is due to a change in the management. The British Columbia do not claim that the troubles are due entirely to causes either. Any mine must have chances in the market for its product, but when the prices of mine products are low, as they are at present, their troubles, serious enough in themselves, are aggravated by the onsets upon just mining laws which have been heaped on the unfortunate mine owners of British Columbia for the last few years.

WINNIPEG SPRING REGATTA.
The two crews who went from here to row in the Winnipeg Spring Regatta made a good showing although they did not last until the finals. Phillips with his crew McCarthy, Scovill and Griffin, beat Riley's crew and made better time than that which won the final heat. In the second heat they won out again, and in the third heat our boys were defeated by Hudson's crew who won the finals. Hooper's crew won their first heat but were defeated by Nash in the second; time 3:47. Hooper won his first race and made the course in 3:40, seven seconds better than the time of the first heat. The boys are, evidently in good trim and with steady practice they ought to make a good showing at the regatta here on July 1st.

BEAUTIFY THE CEMETERY.

Mr. A. H. Horn is making an effort to awaken an interest in beautifying the cemetery, and has prepared a subscription list to which anyone may sign their name for any amount they may feel able to donate for this laudable purpose. At the present time the water works system does not extend to the cemetery, but we understand the council will furnish free water and be willing to put the service past the fence line. This for the purpose of extending the system through the grounds that the public subscription is desired. It will require six taps in all to cover the entire grounds—five in the public cemetery and one in the Roman Catholic cemetery. Sixty feet of hose will also be required.

In Lake of the Woods cemetery Rat Portage possesses one of the most beautifully situated burial places in Canada, but through a lack of water it has been impossible for the caretaker to keep the grass green during the hot summer months. We are glad that Mr. Horn has taken the initiative in this matter and we believe that the citizens will not fail to guarantee sufficient money for the work may be done at once.

CUBA LIBRE.

The United States went in with a whip and a lariat to free Cuba in 1898. It was not in vain for the destruction of the battle ship Maine, but a pure altruistic desire to free a down-trodden people. The republicans put it in their own hands, but after freeing Cuba from Spain, they only, the U. S. started in to run the country, and not to be independent. It is to it as a colony, but public indignation became so strong that the government had to keep the country. Since 1898 there has been a great change over the Republican party, and the following editorial from the St. Paul Dispatch (republican) is an expression of party sentiment. After denouncing the republicanism of the United States, the paper says:

Thus, the educated gentleness sends a faint light on April 19, 1898, when Congress admitted that act of international abjection which declared Cuba of right and independent and allowed the purpose of annexation. In the process of manlike sentimentality, the United States had longed and waited, sometimes with impatience, as Jefferson said, for the day when the boundary playes and persons who were not passengers, were killed, and 101 injured. There were 476 passengers injured.

The Globe says the fact of a few score barrels being caught stuffing the ballot boxes at West Elgin at the last election should not deter other Liberals from doing the same thing—no, that's not it! What the Globe says is: That it should not stop Liberals from voting grit at the coming election. The Globe doesn't say why it shouldn't stop Liberals voting grit, so that the Liberal voter who has grown suspicious is still left in doubt. However, the Liberal will go in anyway whether his constituents vote for him or not, so that the electors might just as well vote for him, as there is nothing to be gained by voting Tory. That must be what the Globe means.

BRIGHT BABIES.

Are a Joy to Mothers and a Treasure in the Home.

All babies should be bright, good natured and well. If you have a child that is sickly, fretful, nervous, restless at night, or suffers from stomach or bowel troubles of any sort, give it Baby's Own Tablets and it will soon be well. The cause of such ailments in the world will so safely and speedily cure indigestion, sour stomach, colic, constipation, diarrhoea and teething troubles. Thousands of grateful mothers speak of this medicine in words of warmest praise. Mrs. Fred Fowler, 18 Scotland street, Toronto, says: "My baby suffered greatly from indigestion. She was pale and very thin and would cry with pain in the stomach, and sometimes would not sleep either day or night. I got a box of Baby's Own Tablets and they made a great change in my little one. She now digests her food readily; is not troubled with the pain in the stomach, and has grown quite plump. I do not know of any medicine that can equal Baby's Own Tablets for little ones."

This medicine is guaranteed to contain neither opiate nor other harmful drug. Children take the tablets as readily as candy and crushed to a powder they can be given to the smallest, weakest baby. Sold at all drug stores, or sent post paid at 25c. a box by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.

DR. BEATTIE GROZIER.

His Work of Intellectual Development Receives High Praise.

The work of Dr. Beattie Grozier, the distinguished Canadian writer, "Intellectual Development," is receiving praise which shows that it is as practical as well as a philosophic work. While noticing the commendation of Bishop Potter of New York, Mr. T. P. O'Connor, M.P., in M.A.P., gives it the opinion of Major Vaughan, and that the principles laid down in the third volume of "Intellectual Development," on the duties and responsibilities of the Imperial Government to the colonies and, to the grades of inferior races, are of a high order, and are those to be found in most confirmed own personal experience. Among the tribes of Central India, Persia, Afghanistan, and the Indian frontier gener-

TO THE ELECTORS.

To the Electors of the Constituency of Port William, and Lake of the Woods:

Gentlemen—I beg to solicit your vote and influence in my behalf at the approaching general election rendered necessary by the recent dissolution of the Ontario Legislative Assembly.

Though a Conservative, I have never been an extreme party man, and feel that on many questions I may lay claim to the support of all fair-minded men who put principal in the leading place and party in the second. I do not pretend to justify or defend all that has heretofore been said and done in the name of Conservatism; but, in spite of blemishes in its history, I believe that the Conservative party has done much for Canada and for Ontario in the past, and is capable of doing much in the future which will redound to the benefit of the country, and the credit of the party.

As regards the present Government of Ontario, between its maladministration and its non-administration there is much for the elector to condemn and much to deplore.

The inability or unwillingness of the present Reform Government to attend the School Law and bring it ahead of the times, stamps the said Government as unfit longer to retain the reins of power. The Conservative party, if successful at the polls, will in all earnestness and with full conviction of the importance and gravity of the subject, at once make determined efforts to bring this great question to a satisfactory and successful issue, by correcting abuses, and modernizing the whole system of education.

The scandalous maladministration of the Liquor Laws of the province, in our district at least, merits the condemnation of all right thinking people and it is idle to suppose that after coming at the hands of the present Liberal law, the government would hit a finger to enforce the new prohibitory act. The much talked of Referendum, a word, which by the way, has no place in any of Mr. Ross' dictionaries or text-books, is the necessary refuge of a cowardly and insincere government, and along with prohibition it is a one-eyed and lame monster, which with the other by-means of the Referendum, the province has been allowed to be controlled by the government, and the latter should by this time have been dealt with by the electors.

Such important questions as the best means of developing New Ontario and how the Ontario Government can best assist in the development of the encouragement of our Agricultural, Mining and Fishing industries; the preservation from waste and destruction of such timber and lands are still left to us as well as the taking of adequate measures to replace our rapidly disappearing forests, will no doubt receive the earnest care and at-

been made in the past demands that even wider views must prevail in the future. If elected, I shall at all times strenuously advocate an enlightened, liberal and progressive policy in regard to the development of our mines, the establishment of pulp and paper mills, the improvement of our waterways and the broadest, and most generous encouragement to the agricultural and settler particularly along the lines of easy acquisition of title, and the opening of good roads throughout the constituency.

The matter of education in a new country like this is one of great importance and should be dealt with in a generous manner and this view I shall consider it my duty to persistently press upon the government at Toronto as well the matter of increased hospital accommodation throughout the north-west portion of the province.

It shall be my aim to meet you all before the date of the election and discuss fully those matters deemed important to the constituency and the province at large.

In the meantime I respectfully submit these views for your consideration and in the event of their meeting with your approval I ask you to support me by your vote and influence.

I have the honor to be Your obedient servant.

D. C. CAMERON.

When it Hurts To Cough

The cough that hurts, the cough that is tight in the chest is daily getting deeper and deeper into the bronchial tubes and is making directly for the lungs, to become pneumonia, inflammation of the lungs or consumption. Such coughs are sometimes referred to as "graveyard coughs," because they usually bring their victim to that last resting place.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has been known as mothers' friend for a long time. It is in popular use all over the world and has been found to be of any preparation.

It loosens the phlegm in the chest, soothes the inflamed membrane, and prevents pneumonia and consumption. It is a safe and reliable preparation.

Such important questions as the best means of developing New Ontario and how the Ontario Government can best assist in the development of the encouragement of our Agricultural, Mining and Fishing industries; the preservation from waste and destruction of such timber and lands are still left to us as well as the taking of adequate measures to replace our rapidly disappearing forests, will no doubt receive the earnest care and at-

of the struggling artist, but for once she forgot to revel in its richness. She was looking anxiously at her watch. Three-quarters of an hour and then the Mesaba would clear her decks.

How fast the minutes flew by! Half an hour now!

She pounded on the door. Miss Macy bustled in. "I'm so sorry, Miss Fairweather. I've been delayed with some customers. You shall have your dress shortly."

"But I must have it at once!" "Impossible!" And Miss Macy bustled off.

Lillian was now frantic. She caught the next girl that passed. "Give me a dress, any kind of a dress!"

A moment later she was tearing a price mark off a sloppy dress of a dirty chocolate color. She rushed into it quite unmindful of the fact that it was two sizes too large, long waisted and bulging at the hips. Throwing the orange cape around her, she stuck on her blue hat and rushed madly from the store.

She hailed a passing cab. "Five dollars if you get me to pier 17 before the Mesaba sails!"

It seemed an eternity until she was rushing down the long wooden shed. Pushing aside the man who demanded her ticket, she ran up the gangplank, and her feet had scarcely left it when it was withdrawn. No Nicholas was in sight. She approached the steward and asked him where Mr. Pindy's stateroom was. He replied that no such party was booked.

Then Lillian gave a gasp. She ran to the end of the steamer nearest the dock only to find that the vessel had begun to move. She uttered a cry which attracted the attention of a youngish man sitting on the piles at the corner of the pier hanging his heels over the water.

He jumped up and whistled, for he realized the full enormity of the situation. She was going, and he was to be left behind. The ocean would separate them, besides a sea of misunderstandings. His bluff had worked beyond his expectations.

He ran to the steamer's starting place and found a stout commercial looking man in a state of great excitement bargaining with the owner of a small tug to take him to the outgoing steamer. Nicholas joined forces with him. A common object to catch the steamer bound them together.

The thing was all arranged in a few minutes. They quickly got alongside and hailed the steamer.

There was already great excitement aboard the Mesaba. A woman in a dirty brown gown, a pink opera cloak and a blue hat was begging hysterically to be taken back to land.

The captain saw peace for him when he perceived the tug. The steamer stopped, and Lillian was transferred to meet her shameless lover and the justly indignant customer. She began to applaud the former when the commercial man interposed:

"Easy now, easy. What about my two hundred and fifty dollar wrap, not to mention the dress? I see you have damaged the cloak we can't take it back. Now, how do I know you can pay for it?"

"Poor Lillian! Two hundred and fifty dollars on demand! Her cheeks burned as she faltered, 'I can't.'"

"Well, then, I will have you arrested for the struggling artist, but for once she forgot to revel in its richness. She was looking anxiously at her watch. Three-quarters of an hour and then the Mesaba would clear her decks.

and, waiting for Gama. Cassio Deane to pass the line of observation. "There's a clock on the day recently. The telescope was pointing up."

Three strokes.

Mr. Blake looked through the telescope and said, "I see it plainly. It is just coming into the field of view."

The reporter looked, but his untrained eye scanned the narrow view of heaven in vain, and he couldn't and Gama, although she is a star of the second magnitude. "Look again," and upon the eye there dawns a yellow speck, rapidly moving to the center. On it whisks, first a faint, flowing speck in immensity, and a gone. And this is how, Mr. Blake tells the time, for across the face of the telescope are minute lines, horizontal and parallel, and when these known stars pass through the field of vision, and across the telescope, they cross those lines at certain times, which can be recorded to the hundredth part of a second. By ingenious electrical devices, and a chronograph this time is placed visible, so from the stars above, we had time made visible, tangible and on paper.

There are one thousand stars sailing over that telescope in this Observatory, so the time can be told, in clear weather many times each day or night. So delicate is the adjustment of the telescope that the slightest touch of the hand upon the front adjustment that holds it would, cause the time to vary, easily noticeable to the practiced eye. It is not possible to adjust the clocks by stopping them where such minute fractions of a second are taken into effect, and in the long and even swinging pendulums are little more weight, some no heavier than a pin, and by means of a magnet, these weights are pulled on and off, to regulate it will.

The Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Railways take their time automatically from Mettill College in Montreal. In Toronto, each day at five minutes to twelve o'clock, Mr. Blake presses a button, the golden arm of the city life and police stoppins ring, the horses turn out in the hall, people peer in, and the antiquated wonder why they don't come out.

Peacage for Mr. Wilford.

One of the most interesting political rumors that has been current for some time is now being quietly talked about in political circles, according to The Free Press. One of the best informed members of the press gallery in Ottawa writing to Winnipeg said that he had heard that at the coronation ceremony in London in June, the present Prime Minister would be given a large sum of money by the Government to be used from the Treasury for the benefit of the people in Quebec and St. Lawrence.

He spent the money in St. Lawrence in Ottawa, the money was used in the form of a large sum of money. It is even said that the matter was discussed informally by the Cabinet.

The fact that St. Lawrence has no children leads to this rumor for it is known that the British Government is reluctant to grant benevolent subsidies to the British States men whose children may not have the money to support the position of dignity.

Free Knave.

With Canada's population of a little over five million people, divided into 142 religious sects, it is quite evident at the least that freedom of religious thought has pretty full play in this northern zone.

The Artist and His Kaleidoscope.

The kaleidoscope is of wonderful assistance in geometrical drawing, and people who suppose that this little toy is of no use will probably be surprised to learn that the greatest portion of the geometrical designs employed in art and architecture are copied by the artist from the figures produced by the kaleidoscope. The instruments employed are somewhat larger than the toys sold in the shops, and some of them are fastened upon stands in such a way as will enable the draftsman to set up his instrument in the exact position for a considerable length of time and then give him an opportunity to make copies of the figures produced.

THE COMING OF WINTER.

Out of the northland sombre weeds are calling:
A shadow falleth southward day by day;
And summer's arms grow cold; his drear is falling:
His feet draw back to give the stern one way.

It is the voice and shadow of the slayer,
Master of love, sweet world, slayer of dreams;
Make sad thy voice with softer plaint and woe;
Make gray thy weeds and darken all thy brow.

Black grows the river, blacker drifts the sky;
The sea is gray; the woods are cold and bare;
Oh, make thy bosom shiver and lips ready
For the cold lips of the snow show.
